What is Supported Accommodation?

SUPPORTED ACCOMMODATION & THE NDIS

Accessing supported accommodation under the NDIS falls under two categories – Supported Independent Living (SIL) and Specialist Disability Accommodation (SDA). Depending on your individual needs you might have one or both types of funding in your NDIS plan.

SUPPORTED INDEPENDENT LIVING (SIL)

Supported Independent Living (SIL) is a support to help you live in your home.

It includes assistance with daily tasks, like personal care or cooking meals and helps you live as independently as possible, while building your skills.

Supported independent living is for people with higher support needs, who need some level of help at home all the time.

SPECIALIST DISABILITY ACCOMMODATION (SDA)

Specialist Disability Accommodation (SDA) is designed for people with extreme functional impairment or very high support needs.

SDA homes have accessible features to help you live more independently and allow other supports to be delivered better or more safely.

How is it funded?

SUPPORTED ACCOMMODATION & THE NDIS

Supported accommodation is funded for NDIS participant's who meet the eligibility criteria. You may need to apply for this type of funding to have it included in your NDIS plan.

If you're unsure, just ask – we're happy to help! We have support coordinators, an occupational therapist and a business clinician on our team who can assist you.

SUPPORTED INDEPENDENT LIVING (SIL)

Supported Independent Living (SIL) is funded for participants who have the Assistance with Daily Life (Core Support) budget category included in their NDIS plan.

Participants who receive supported independent living may also have funding for a support coordinator to assist you with coordinating your supports.

SPECIALIST DISABILITY ACCOMMODATION (SDA)

Specialist Disability Accommodation (SDA) a capital support. You need to apply for this type of funding and supply supporting documentation.

This is a stated support – meaning a fixed amount will be shown on your NDIS plan if it is included.

Getting to know your community

AT THE HEART OF OUR HOMES IS COMMUNITY.

From your support team to your housemates and loved ones, feeling like part of the community and CCLO Living family is all part of the experience we aim to foster.

We celebrate all of life's moments from birthdays to Christmas celebrations (we even have a street party at Boyce Village!). If your loved ones can't attend a celebration in person, we also leverage technology via virtual meetings to bring everyone together.

Beyond our residences, CCLO Living team are committed to offering innovative experiences through Community Participation supports so you can participate in activities in your community and beyond (including supported holidays, trips to attend family functions, and more).

There's lots to do and explore near all of our homes (ask us about our community participation supports today!)
